

SITUATIONAL AWARENESS ADVISORY

HEAT ADVISORY

Friends and neighbors,
The weather in our area over the next three days is going to become oppressively hot, possibly even breaking some records.

Today, Thursday and Friday, the heat index is predicted to be in the upper 90s, at times approaching 100 degrees. With the increase in temperatures and humidity, the air quality will be effected. Those with respiratory issues, the elderly, small children, and those without air conditioning may want to consider using a cooling center.

Kent Emergency Management Community Emergency Response Team will be opening up our Cooling Center in the large meeting room on the first floor at Town Hall. Please enter through the back entrance.

Hours open: Wednesday and Thursday from 10am to 7pm, and Friday 10am to 5pm

Please note: Masks in Town Hall are required for all regardless of vaccination status.

Stay well,

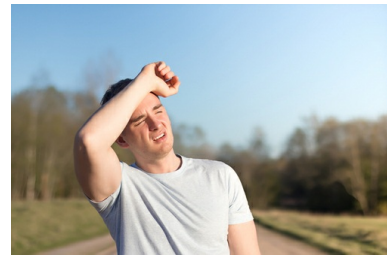

Remember to check on your elderly neighbors, limit outdoor time for your pets, and allow yourself to take more breaks during the day.

Don't forget to hydrate, hydrate, hydrate during the day!

Find some space to cool off (for you and your pets).

If you are outside and begin to not feel well, head indoors.
